

Political Leaders Hopeful

County Chairmen Of Both Parties Predict They Will be Winners

Both Democratic and Republican parties claim they will have a majority of the votes cast in Pettis county in the General Election Tuesday. Chairmen of both the committees in the county, in interviews by a Democrat reporter today, gave their ideas on how the election will go as to various candidates on their respective tickets.

John Connor, chairman of the Democratic committee, said today he is confident that President Franklin D. Roosevelt will carry this county by between 500 and 1,000 votes. As to Roy McKittick, for U. S. senator he gave a conservative majority.

"I am confident our whole ticket will be elected," he said, "and all of the candidates will carry this county, some by a larger majority than others. As to who leads the ticket, that is hard to determine, but I look for Dr. E. C. Snively for coroner, Mike Donahoe for sheriff and James I. Collins for surveyor, W. E. Scotten for administrator, to be the leaders with a majority of from 1,500 upwards.

"Dr. George Classon, for congress, I look to come out with a majority of between 700 and 800 and Frank Armstrong for prosecuting attorney to have a 1,000 majority. The remainder of the candidates I give a majority estimate of between 300 to 1,000.

"Wilson Bell, candidate for secretary of state, will lead the ticket in the county, the majority I can't say but it will be big, in fact I look for him to lead the ticket throughout the state," Mr. Connor concluded.

Republicans Optimistic

Leonard Fall, chairman of the Republican committee, said today he didn't care to give any estimates as to figures, on any of the candidates. "With the good strong position we have, I say we shall carry the county by a reasonable amount. The excellent organization that we have and the present outlook assure me we will lead the county.

"As to exact figures, I don't want to say other than they will be big and I predict Pettis county will go entirely Republican," he concluded.

Comparison of Votes

Comparison of votes in the general elections for Pettis county of 1932, 1936 and 1940 show a decline in the Roosevelt majority in 1936 over the 1932 election, and he lost the county in the 1940 election. The returns of 1932 were: Roosevelt 9,474; Hoover 5,980; 1936 were Roosevelt 9,265; Landon 7,435; and 1940 gave Roosevelt 8,570 and Willkie 8,905.

Comparison of the vote in Missouri was: 1932, Roosevelt 1,025,046; Hoover 564,713; 1936 Roosevelt 1,111,043; Landon 697,891; 1940, Roosevelt 958,476, Willkie 871,009.

The absentee applications in Pettis county are: Soldiers ballots, 714; civilians 99. Absentee ballots which have already been received by County Clerk J. H. Green are: Soldiers 520, civilians 81, and the others have until Wednesday night to reach Mr. Green's office.

Battle Rages In Suburbs Of Budapest

Russians Meet Violent German Counterattacks

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Furious fighting raged in the suburbs of shell torn Budapest today as heavy Russian infantry forces joined the armored vanguards which had penetrated defenses of the Hungarian capital from the north and south on the east side of the Danube river.

The Germans said they had recaptured the East Prussian railroad town of Goldap, 19 miles inside the reich, after surrounding the place. The Russians at midnight reported violent German counterattacks staved off there.

The enemy said also that a counterattack had started south of Budapest and that the Hungarian capital was not yet under a major Russian assault. The Red army was declared regrouping and reinforcing for the final attempt.

The German radio announced early today that Soviet tanks crashed into the southern metropolitan limits, only two miles from the heart of the city, while a Bucharest broadcast said other Red army units, racing around the eastern edge of the capital, stormed the northern suburbs through Ujpest.

Take 1,000 Prisoners a Day

At the same time Red army troops threatened to gain a bridgehead across the eastern fork of the Danube, just south of Budapest, and cross on to narrow Csepel island which divides the river into two arms for 30 miles southward.

The city's German and Hungarian defenders were being captured at the rate of 1,000 a day in the powerful Russian encirclement, Moscow announced. Hungarian reports quoted by Bucharest indicated the bulk of the Nazi forces already were fleeing to the western part (Buda) of the Danube-straddling capital.

Americans Will Speak Tuesday

Both Presidential Candidates on Air for Brief Addresses Tonight

By J. W. Davis
Associated Press Staff Writer

The flood of argument—Republican and Democratic—that orators roar out to Americans every four years is about over for this time, and tomorrow the people will speak.

For 17 hours, over the various time zones of the country, an estimated 44,000,000 men and women (some guesses run up to 50,000,000) will decide finally whether they want Franklin D. Roosevelt to be president for a fourth term, or whether they want Governor Thomas E. Dewey to take over the job.

The great issue—who is the better man to speed victory and guide the peace?

The polls, according to County Clerk J. H. Green, will open at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning and close at 7:00 o'clock. The polls ordinarily close at sunset, but when the sun sets prior to 7:00 o'clock the polls remain open until that time.

Both the president who once was governor and the governor who would be president are expected to confine their remaining words largely to appeals for a big vote.

Mr. Roosevelt's last campaign appearance will be a brief address tonight on a program over the four major networks, from 9 to 10 p. m. CWT, under the sponsorship of the Democratic national committee.

His schedule today, as customary called for visits among communities neighboring his Hyde Park, N. Y., home, making talks here and there.

Dewey to New York

Governor Dewey, after a 15-minute talk over the four networks tonight at 10 p. m., CWT, will go to New York City tomorrow where he and Mrs. Dewey will cast their votes.

Election eve found the vice presidential candidates back home. Republican Governor John W. Bricker at Columbus, Ohio, and Democratic Senator Harry S. Truman at Independence, Mo.

Spreading praise of their running mates, Bricker and Truman have campaigned farther and harder than the presidential nominees, each leading a varied assortment of workers in the fight to convince the people that the election of his man is essential.

But, as the voters over the country well know, this isn't just a two-man election. There are also 114 candidates for governor, senator and representative, and the winners will figure importantly in peace-making and employment tasks.

The Republicans stand their best chance in 12 years of capturing the now closely-divided house, in which all seats are up for voting on this year.

Pvt. Butner Is Wounded

Pvt. Henry A. "Robert" Butner, son of Mrs. M. F. Butner, 415 West Seventh street, has been slightly wounded, while in action in France, according to a message received this morning by his mother. He had been previously wounded while in action at Anzio Beach.

Pvt. Butner landed with the first group in Africa two years ago, and has been through many of the major engagements in the European area.

He has two brothers in the service, James, in Italy, and Harold, in the South Pacific. All three brothers were in the regular army prior to Pearl Harbor.

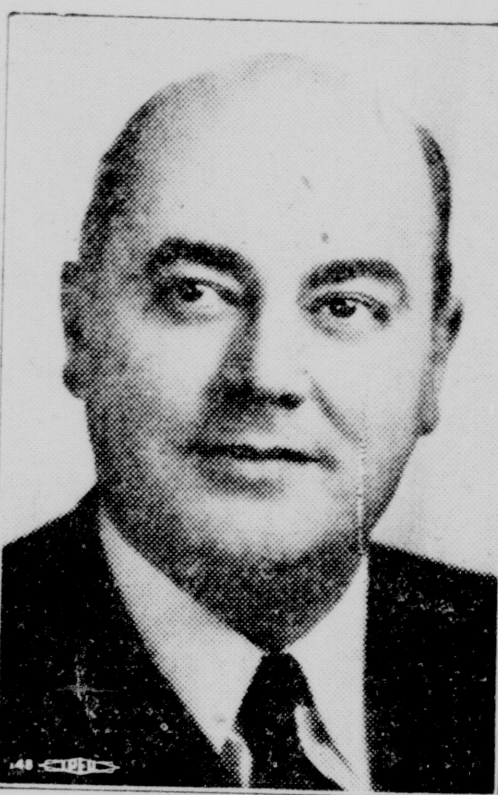

Uel W. Lamkin Guest Speaker

Uel W. Lamkin, president of the State Teachers college at Maryville, will be the principal speaker when the annual assembly of the Saint Chrysostom Conclave No. 36, Order of the Red Cross of Constantine, high Masonic order, convenes in Sedalia Saturday, November 11. Mr. Lamkin is an outstanding educator.

Dr. A. J. Campbell of Sedalia is the illustrious Sovereign, highest office in the order and Jolly P. Hurt, active in Masonic work, is the only other Sedalian who is a member.

The assembly will be a formal affair, with a business meeting at the Masonic Temple at 5:30 o'clock and a banquet at the Bothwell hotel for the Knight Companion of the order and their ladies and guests.

Speaks Tonight

Jean Paul Bradshaw, Lebanon, Republican candidate for the office of governor of Missouri, will speak at a public meeting in the circuit court room at 8:00 o'clock tonight. He will be introduced by W. D. Smith, chairman of the county Republican executive committee, after the meeting has been opened and the candidates introduced by L. B. Fall, county chairman. Mrs. Bradshaw will join her husband here for the meeting.

Prior to the meeting Mr. Bradshaw will be honor guest at a dinner at the Bothwell hotel.

After his talk at the court house the candidate will go to Hubbard school, where a meeting will be in progress, which begins at 8:00 o'clock.

Indicate Two More Charges Will be Filed

Prosecuting Attorney Of Benton Co. Busy In the Murder Case

Murder charges are to be filed against Kenneth Holloway and Goldie Smith, inmates of the Benton county jail, last Wednesday, at the time Sheriff Louis J. Miesner was fatally shot by Buster Harold Goff, it was indicated today by Sheriff Harrison Eaton, acting sheriff of Benton county. Sheriff Eaton stated F. M. Bracky, prosecuting attorney of Benton county, has been working on the papers, charging the two with being implicates to the murder, and would be filed as soon as he could complete them. Brady has already filed first degree murder charges against Goff who signed a confession that he had shot Sheriff Miesner.

Goff in his statement to officials indicated a jail delivery had been planned and implicated both the Smith girl, who is 18 years old, and also Holloway, who was held in the "cage" jail. Holloway and the Smith girl are accused of the burglary of a garage at Lincoln and were held in the jail when the shooting occurred.

Says They Were Scared

Goff gave as his reason for shooting the sheriff, "Louis got scared," and I got scared and shot him."

Goff and Holloway are being held in the Green county jail at Springfield, while the girl is still held in the woman's quarters of the Benton county jail.

Gun Recovered

The submachine gun which Goff used in killing Sheriff Miesner, was recovered Sunday by Everett Trenary, living six miles east and a half mile south of Clinton, between bales of hay in his barn lot, where Goff had slept Thursday night. Sheriff J. D. Teays of Henry county stated it was being turned over to the State Highway Patrol.

It was Trenary, who first saw Goff after he had left his barn, and he reported to R. W. Edison of the State Patrol in Clinton. From then on the case followed through Friday, until Goff was captured west of Garland, Mo., nine miles west of Clinton, about 5:50 o'clock that night.

Goff had previously told officers that he had tossed the gun "in the river."

Eaton's Gun Located

This afternoon Sheriff Harrison Eaton reported the .38 caliber Colt pistol reported as missing from the jail after Goff had escaped last Wednesday following the shooting, had been located. The gun was returned to Sheriff Eaton (Please turn to Page 4, Column 3)

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Germany is "on the verge of catastrophe," Marshal Stalin declared tonight in an address in which he said Russia, the United States and Great Britain have "made plans for a secure peace."

"It is not enough to win the war but we must make any future peace impossible," the premier declared before a Moscow throng commemorating the 27th anniversary of the Russian revolution.

German 15th Gets Setback

Half Destroyed In Fierce Holland Offensive That Began 2 Weeks Ago

WITH THE AMERICAN TROOPS IN HOLLAND, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The Germans have pulled their troops back across the Maas at Moerdijk and have blown up almost half the bridge, one of the longest in Europe, aerial reconnaissance showed today.

Lt. Morton D. Kauffman, New York City, said the Germans made a thorough job of blasting the bridge, blowing it up span by span from the south bank to nearly mid-stream.

"There is just a steel framework left standing," he reported.

By William Frye

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—

Allied assaults threw the Nazis back across the Maas today along a 50-mile front to the sea, marred only by two small enemy pockets. British field officers declared the German 15th army had been half-destroyed in the fierce west Holland offensive that began two weeks ago.

As the British and Canadian armies drew up to the water barrier 16 miles south of Rotterdam on a potential new assault line, the British estimated that 65,000 Germans had been killed, captured and wounded while being driven to the north from 25 to 15 miles.

Declaring Field Marshal Waltham von Model's 15th army had suffered a "serious setback," British army spokesmen said British and Canadian troops had bagged 25,000 prisoners in the drive that opened north of Antwerp on Oct. 22. The campaign freed 1,200 square miles of Dutch territory and 570,000 Netherlands. Already Allied dredges and mine-sweepers were clearing the west Schelde approach to Antwerp.

The Allies held all the south bank of the Maas from north of 's Hertogenbosch to the sea except for two small pockets, each four miles long and two miles deep at the Moerdijk bridge and Willemstad ferry, 16 miles south of Rotterdam.

Route More Complete

West of these pockets, the German rout became more complete as Allied troops swarmed over Tholen island and the St. Philipsland peninsula to the north which forms the southern bank of the mouth of the Maas.

Allied troops seized all of Walcheren island except the small port of Veere on the north coast and the town of Middleburg in the center.

Von Model attempted to defend southwestern Holland and the sea gate to Antwerp with an army of approximately 110,000, the British said.

Of the 25,000 prisoners, 13,000 were taken in the pocket south of the Schelde, and 8,000 on the Schelde islands.

The two pockets at Moerdijk and Willemstad were believed to hold no more than 2,000 or 3,000 troops.

"There is no doubt Von Model's army has been greatly depleted," a British army spokesman said, "or that he's been hauled into serious defeat. His divisions have been cut to almost a quarter of their strength."

Their Money Wasn't Lost After All

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Nov. 6.—(AP)—After they had slept on it overnight, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gedney found they hadn't lost $9,700 in currency, as they reported to police Sunday.

"We looked under the bed again and there it was," Gedney told police today. "Stuffed between the mattress and springs."

The Gedneys had reported the money, in a handbag, was missing after they returned home early Sunday morning. Mrs. Gedney believed she left the bag on a living room table.

Sgt. J. W. Ripley Receives DFC

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE BOMBER STATION, England.—For "extraordinary achievement" during bombing attacks on Nazi war plants and on military targets in support of Allied ground forces, Staff Sergeant James W. Ripley, 20, of LaMonte, Mo., has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Sgt. Ripley is waist gunner on the Eighth Air Force B-17 Flying Fortress "Cupid's Arrow." In addition to his DFC, he holds the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf clusters for his share in the bitter battles with Nazi flak and fighters in the war's toughest air theatre.

He is a member of the 388th Bomber Group, a unit of the Third Bombardment Division, cited by the president for its shuttle mission to Africa when Messerschmitt aircraft plants at Ragnsburg were hit.

Sgt. Ripley flew in three attacks on military targets in Berlin, on oil refineries at Brux, Magdeburg and in the Leipzig area, on aircraft plants at Munich, on the docks at Kiel and Bremen and on Nazi flying bomb sites in the Pas de Calais area.

At Brux he participated in one of the war's biggest air battles when dozens of Nazi fighters attacked the Eighth formations bombing the huge synthetic oil plant there.

Sgt. Ripley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ripley of LaMonte. He was a sheet metal worker with North American Aviation, Inc., in Kansas City, Kas., before entering the AAF.

Hit Military Objectives, Oil Refinery

Not One Superfort Lost to Enemy Action In Two Actions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Striking audaciously by daylight, B-29 superfortresses plastered military targets at Singapore in one of two raids yesterday by the aerial dreadnaughts.

The once mighty bastion of British naval might in the Pacific was visited in "substantial force" while sister ships lashed out heavily at an oil refinery in Sumatra.

None of the superforts was lost to enemy action in either blow.

Giant bombers of the 20th air-force which since early summer have ranged from Manchuria in the north to Sumatra in the south, and which have hit directly at the Japanese home islands, yesterday directed their might at the strategic tip of the Malay peninsula which Japan wrested from Britain early in 1942.

It was the longest daylight strike ever flown by military planes, and a communique described results as "good to excellent."

India based superfortresses also struck heavily at the Pangkalan-Brandon oil refinery on the north coast of Sumatra as long-distance raids against the enemy were stepped up to what soon may grow to almost clock-like regularity.

Tokyo Claims One B-29

(A Tokyo radio broadcast recorded by the federal communications commission asserted that one B-29 was shot down and another damaged in the raid on Pangkalan-Brandon. It said "no damage was incurred on our side.")

Singapore was hit by superfortresses in "substantial force," the communique announced.

Weather was clear enough so that observers witnessed direct hits on a control house in the largest drydock and on other vital points. In addition, two direct hits were scored on a Japanese ship in dry dock.

Missing Car Found

A 1935 Ford sedan belonging to J. J. Parsley, 1101 East Fifth street, which was reported stolen Sunday night about 8 o'clock, was recovered by the local police. It had been abandoned in an alley behind 620 West Second street. The car was stolen from near the Missouri Inn.

Offices Close Tuesday

The offices on the second floor of the city hall will be closed all day, Tuesday, election day.

Fighting Bitter for Ormoc

Trapped Japanese Clash Violently With US Infantrymen Of 96th Division

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, PHILIPPINES, Nov. 6.—(AP)—(Via Army Radio)—American 155 millimeter Long Toms sent 400 rounds of high explosives whining into Japanese concentrations at dawn today as Yank infantrymen annihilated a "Banzai" attack in another sector.

The artillery barrage in the Ormoc area possibly presages a bloody fight for the Japanese reinforcing point on the west coast of Leyte Island and possibly the final battle of the Leyte campaign.

Entrenched Japanese, estimated at 600 to 2,000 and including recently landed reinforcements that crossed a mountain chain from Ormoc, clashed violently with advancing American infantrymen of the 96th Division west of Dagami, important central valley road junction.

Fighting was bitter. The Americans were pinned down for two days until light tanks, flame throwers and grenades were hurled against the Japanese. Then the Japanese made a futile "banzai" counterattack, led by sword-wielding officers. The bodies of at least 500 Japanese littered the battlefield.

Straddle Trail

Units of the American 10th corps straddled the Damagi-Jaro trail, effectively trapping the survivors.

Elmont Waite, Associated Press correspondent, reported from the scene that the Japanese made pathetic efforts to stop the Americans. One Nipponese lieutenant climbed atop a tank and hacked at the muzzle of a barking machine gun with his saber before being picked off.

Col. Macey L. Dill, commanding a 88th Division regiment who first estimated the Japanese at 600, but later 2,000 on information furnished by natives, said: "I think we've broken their back. We heard 'em groaning and grunting and squealing, dragging back their wounded and dead until 5 a. m. Sunday."

While Lieut. Gen. Walter Krueger's 6th Army artillery hurled shells into Ormoc, other heavy guns were sweeping highway number two as it winds through mountain passes to Carigara, making it impossible for the Japanese to move troops over it, even under cover of darkness.

Take Pinamopan

Pinamopan, strategic communication center on Leyte's northwest coast, was captured yesterday by veterans of the American 24th division who immediately headed south toward Ormoc, west coast port town 20 miles away through which the Japanese for three days have managed to bring in reinforcements.

South of Ormoc—the enemy's last escape port—the 7th infantry division was about 12 miles away after a 14-mile drive from captured Baybay.

Thus a climactic battle for the Central Philippine Island appeared taking shape fast.

Neutrals Refuse To Predict How Missouri Will Go

By The Associated Press

With both sides claiming victories in tomorrow's election, Republican and Democratic candidates today were winding up their campaigns with brief speeches.

Both Sam M. Wear of Springfield, Democratic State Chairman and Grover W. Dalton, Missouri Republican Chairman, predicted success for their parties. Wear said the Democratic ticket would carry Missouri by 75,000 to 100,000 votes while Dalton contended a minimum majority of 30,000 voters.

Neutral observers, however, declined to predict tomorrow's outcome in the "Little Dixie" border state.

Pvt. Dave Sommer, son of Frank Sommer and brother of Miss Helen Sommer, 709 East Fifteenth street, is recovering nicely from an operation undergone in a hospital in France. While he was recovering, a two-hour visit with his close Sedalia friend, Pfc.
Charles Kirby, with whom he attended Smith-Cotton high school, worked at the Missouri Pacific shops and entered the army the same day, was arranged by his chaplain. Although the boys had been stationed in the same locality, 19 months had elapsed since they had last seen each other.
Both boys are in the combat engineer group. Pvt. Sommer also saw John Whitman of Sedalia, son of John C. Whitman, 623
West Twenty-fourth street.

to staff sergeant has been announced by Lieutenant Colonel George Y. Jumper, Natoma, Cal-

bombing war plants in Germany and military defense points in support of the Allied armies.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs.
Verlin M. Stevens, 4113 Indiana street, Kansas City, Mo., formerly of Windsor. His wife, the former Miss Opal K. Paul, lives at 3216 East Sixth street, Kansas City, Missouri.

Prior to entering the army in December, 1941, he was a high school student at Smithton, Missouri. He received his wings at Tyndal Field, Florida, aerial gunnery school.

If present plans are carried through, there will be a decorated Christmas tree on Saipan this Christmas which the three Sedalia promulgators of the scheme be-the island.

Sometime during August Mrs.
Leo Eickhoff, 705 West Fifth

Cannon, Jr., an artificial Christmas tree and decorations. Pfc.

ed in locating two other Sedalians son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Orr, 1601

South Sneed avenue, and Lieut.
Kay Downs, son of Mr. and Mrs.
J. F. Downs, 716 West Seventh

touch with other boys of this city, about whose presence there he has heard, so that they can all throw a real Sedalia Christmas Tree

YOU GOTTA THINK QUICK

By Stanley Paley

Copyright, 1944, NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Leo Kabateck, temporarily down at heel, gets a phone call from Virgil Boggio.
Boggio wants to see him right away.

FIFTY-SEVEN West 72nd Street was the Shelton Arms, a prosperous-looking apartment house with a red and white striped awning and a colored doorman. I gave my name to the clerk at the desk, took the elevator to the third floor and then walked along a thick carpet which deadened your footsteps so efficiently that you sounded like a cat.

I had barely touched the buzzer
of apartment 307 when Ginger opened the door. It looked as if they were impatiently waiting for me.

"Hel-lo, Leo!" exclaimed Ginger with that dazzling smile of hers. "Come right in." She took both my hands and shook them with all the effusiveness used for a sugar daddy bringing home the weekly check.

"You're looking more beautiful than ever, Ginger," I said, grinning back at her. I wasn't kidding. Her green eyes were bright and clear, her complexion was flawless, and she had a light coat of tan that suited her admirably.
It was evident that the sea voyage had done her good and that whatever the extent of Virgil's worries, she wasn't going to share them.

Boggio, in a heavy silk robe,
was stretched out on the divan.
He waved a pudgy hand at me, motioning me to sit down, and then replaced the wet cloth he had removed from his forehead. I was frankly shocked by his appearance. His usually well-fed face seemed thin and drawn. There were dark circles under his eyes which he had closed, and he looked as if he hadn't slept for the past week.

"Virgil's not feeling so good,"
Ginger explained in a whisper.
"I've given him a couple of aspirins. It's one of his migraines and he's feeling sick to his stomach. He doesn't travel well. I told him to take it easy this morning, but he was in a hurry to see you. Now he realizes that he'd better wait for awhile."

If I knew anything about Virgil
it wasn't the journey that made him feel sick. It took something a little stronger to knock him off his feet.

"Make yourself comfortable," continued Ginger. "I'll get you a drink."

GINGER glided back and forth to the kitchen as if she were still on the stage, with me doing duty for baldheaded row. She had just deposited the ice bowl on a little table in front of my armchair, and bent over to fill two glasses when Boggio took an active part in the proceedings. He slowly hoisted himself to a sitting position and swung his body around so that his short legs dangled over the edge of the divan.
"Come on," he said. "Let's go

then sent to Boston, Mass.

Young French received a citation for meritorious devotion to duty as a volunteer of a group of marines from a beachhead on Guadalcanal island on September 27, 1942. Although his boat was unarmed and in spite of the fact that it was necessary to pass through continuous machine gun and mortar fire from the enemy-held shore positions surrounding the beachhead, French made numerous trips to and from the shore in order to effect the resce-of the trapped troops. Through courageous action the safe removal of the troops was completed in a highly successful manner. His conduct was in keeping with the highest traditions of naval service, according to T. S.
Wilkerson, Rear Admiral of the U. S. Navy, deputy commander of the South Pacific area.

into the other room."

I took up my drink and we went into the bedroom on the other side of a small hallway.
Boggio plunked himself into an armchair and I sat down across from him. It was funny how much taller he looked sitting down, than standing up. The reason was his legs, which were completely out of proportion with the rest of his body. They were at least six inches too short and thus his height of five feet two should have been about five eight. I've often wondered if it wasn't this physical deformity which made Boggio what he is. After all, Napoleon's stature had something to do with the shaping of the world.

"Suppose a corporation had its back to the wall and was about to go into receivership?" he asked suddenly. "And suppose it couldn't save itself, would it mean a complete investigation of its activities? Would the bankruptcy court turn the whole thing over to the federal authorities if certain irregularities were discovered?"

"It might," I said. "Provided the corporation did go into re-ceivership."

I was on the spot. Boggio had been out of circulation for the past six months and, before leaving, he hadn't even hinted that anything might be wrong. And now I was supposed to come across with all the answers. I was to be a Code Book, a Father Confessor, and a brain trust all rolled in one. That's what I'd been trained for and it looked as if I were finally going to function.

I SQUIRMED uneasily in my chair. "Now look here, Virgil,"
I continued, "I know your rules of duty outside the continental United States.

Oklahoma Still Heads The Big Six

Games Saturday: Iowa State at Nebraska; Kansas at Kansas State; Missouri at Oklahoma.

By F. W. Crawford
KANSAS CITY, Nov. 6.—(P)—Iowa State, which never has won a Big Six football championship, couldn't have come much closer than it did Saturday.

Oklahoma still rides ahead of the second place Cyclones because the Sooners had the stuff to throw back the undefeated Iowans a few inches from a touchdown in the third quarter of a thrilling game played before 10,000 patrons at Ames.

A powerful attack had given the Sooners 12 points in the second quarter. Iowa State had seven.

But it was not scoring power that got the glory in the dramatic second half of the struggle—it was a tenacious Oklahoma defense that saved the day.

A Sooner fumble gave Iowa State the ball on the Oklahoma five. Four plays later Oklahoma took over on downs less than a foot from the goal. Had the Cyclones swept through they would have been ahead 13-12, at least, unbeaten and with only Nebraska's Cornhuskers between them and the title.

The Cyclones surged goalward again in the final quarter. Again Coach Dewey Luster breathed easier after his Sooners held on the 11-yard line and took the ball. Oklahoma's perfect conference record was intact.

All but assured of retaining its title, Oklahoma faces Missouri this weekend in Norman. The Tigers flashed back to winning form by setting down undefeated, untied Michigan State Saturday 13-7.

Even if Oklahoma should lose to Missouri, it still would be favored to hold its crown. Only a long and involved succession of upsets would push the Sooners off the throne.

Nebraska took a licking Saturday from Iowa, 27-6, and plays the other Hawkeye school—Iowa State—this weekend.

BAD NEWS!

ALONG with all the good news of victories abroad, comes some very bad news here at home.

Fat salvage collections are TAKING A NOSE DIVE in many sections of the country.

That can mean just one thing! Too many of us are letting the good news GO TO OUR HEADS. Too many believe that, with the collapse of Germany, we can relax.

Don't these people know that the battle of Germany is just one chapter in this global war—and that we still have a long, tough road to travel in the East?

Even the TOTAL DEFEAT OF GERMANY can't help us one bit as far as the fat situation is concerned. And for a specific reason: IT'S THE JAPS WHO HAVE OUR FATS.

Our fat shortage troubles began when Japan moved into the Pacific areas and cut us off from ONE BILLION POUNDS of fats and oils we used to import every year. The Japs are still there—and we're still cut off!

So we must continue saving used fats to help make up that loss. To help make the munitions, synthetic rubber, medicines, soaps and other materials needed to finish the war. WE MUST SAVE EVEN HARDER THAN EVER. So let's get busy and send the fat collections climbing up all across America! THE NEED IS SO URGENT, our government gives you 4¢ and 2 free red points for every pound saved!

SO KEEP SAVING USED FATS UNTIL V-J DAY—the day when we can celebrate final victory over our last and toughest enemy—Japan.

Not a Halloween Party
The young people of the Church of the Open Bible wish to correct a statement that was in last Wednesday night's paper. The statement was that the young people held a Halloween party in the church basement, on Monday evening. "We wish to state that we did have a group singing," they report, "and prayer after which a few games were played and in no way in keeping with the Halloween season."

Activities on the Farm Front

Nov. 6-11 Is 4-H Achievement Week

Members This Year Produced A Large Supply Of Foodstuffs

We salute you, 4-H Club members of the land army! Your services are of inestimable value to the nation. This week of November 6-11 is set apart as National 4-H Achievement Week.

4-H Club boys and girls are fighting with food, fighting with war bonds, fighting with scrap; they are guarding their own health as well as that of their community; they are serving for those who have gone to war; they are instilled with an appreciation of the democratic way of life.

It is opportune that the people of Pettis County appreciate the vast achievement of this younger generation in their own communities. Four hundred and thirteen boys and girls were enrolled in thirty clubs in Pettis County during the year. Sixty-two members have participated in judging; ninety-two in demonstration, and one hundred twenty-five in exhibits at County Achievement Day, District 4-H Show, and County Victory Garden Harvest Show.

Two boys chosen from Pettis County spent several very enjoyable and profitable days at the Ninth State 4-H Conservation Camp at the Lake of the Ozarks during September. The American Royal 4-H Conference in Kansas City, October 11-13 was another high-light for five of our boys and girls who attended.

Some of Achievements

In the national events, Pettis County had a 4-H girl that attended the American Youth Foundation Camp.

These 4-H boys and girls have raised 876 bushels of vegetables in their gardens, canned 2,968 quarts of food, prepared 2,570 dishes of food, made 531 articles of clothing, raised 193 pigs, 1,085 fowl, 36 turkeys, 13 dairy animals, 21 beef calves, and 8 boys have done 5,926 hours of farm labor as a 4-H Club project. In addition, club members have done hundreds of hours of labor on the farms and in the homes.

Nearly 1,700,000 4-H Club members throughout the nation have produced sufficient food to feed more than a million men in our armed forces in the past year. They have collected over 300,000,000 pounds of scrap. They have purchased or sold over $35,000,000 in war bonds and stamps. They are helping to produce and conserve for the food arsenal the following products:

Poultry products, 12,000,000 birds.
Dairy cattle, 100,000 head.
Livestock, 600,000 head.
Victory garden products, 150,000 acres.
Food crops, 300,000 acres.
Products canned, 17,000,000 quarts.

Many advantages of 4-H membership and participation in club work cannot be estimated in pounds, or quarts, or acres, and these may be the more important to the youth of our county. Development of initiative, leadership, cooperation, and self reliance, the experience of ownership, the real life situation, the recreational opportunities—these are only a few of the intangible assets that become a part of each boy and girl's life.

Some 4-H clubs in the county have already reorganized and we hope all the other clubs will reorganize soon in preparation for a bigger, better 1945.

This harvest season marks a production record for the year and marks the end of another year of service for your nation.

Home Washing Is Taken Up

The wartime shortage of commercial laundry and cleaning services has forced many a housewife to learn ways of cleaning clothes at home. Cotton corduroy, one of the popular fall fabrics now appearing in the stores in suits, coats, and dresses as well as in children's outfits, very often can be laundered successfully at home. Clothing specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture advise that washable corduroy garments generally carry labels giving special instructions for washing. In the absence of such a label, the housewife should wash a sample cut from an inside seam or pocket before plunging the whole garment in the washbub. Points to notice are color fastness and shrinkage.

Corduroy needs gentle washing in lukewarm water and milk soap-suds. Because the fabric is bulky, it calls for plenty of suds. Squeeze suds through garment but do not twist or rub. Rinse in two or three changes of lukewarm water, always lifting the garment so the nap is not crushed. Instead of wringing, lift garment from tub, fold in bath towel to remove excess water, then hang on wooden hangers to dry in shape letting water run down the nap. Dry rapidly—out of doors in a stiff breeze, if possible.

When the garment is almost dry, brush it following the nap to keep it smooth. Press on the wrong side with the nap, then brush again. Steam irons are especially helpful in pressing corduroy.

If a corduroy coat is lined, the only safe way to wash it is to remove the lining and padding and wash the corduroy separately.

Club Studies Sewing

Mrs. Betty Weiffenbach, assisted by Miss Laura Kruse and Mrs. Edith Ratje, was hostess to members of the Smithton Home Economics club last Wednesday.

The devotional service was conducted by Mrs. Harry Demand and Mrs. Weiffenbach, after which the club letter was read by the president, Mrs. O. R. Demand, and the standard of achievement was read and checked. Letters of appreciation for work done by the club for the Red Cross and USO were also read.

Short cut methods of sewing were demonstrated and discussed by Mrs. W. J. Holtzen and Mrs. O. R. Demand.

A covered dish luncheon, to which all contributed, was served at noon.

The next meeting will be held November 29.

Fall Plowing As Essential

Clean-Up For Insect Control And Check Disease

Fall plowing is a very essential practice to good vegetable production and it may be combined with a clean-up program and assist materially in controlling insects and diseases, says Clyde Cunningham of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture.

Soil plowed in the fall makes it possible to liberate more chemical plant food material and start earlier the decomposition of organic matter. In addition, soil that has frozen and thawed will work much more easily than ground spring-plowed, thereby giving a tilth very desirable for spring planting. A good seedbed is assurance of good germination and emergence of small vegetable seeds.

The first step in the gardening program for next year is to clean the area of plant refuse this fall. Tomato and bean vines, cornstalks, and other plant growth should be burned to prevent disease and insects from overwintering. Most insects cannot survive alternate freezing or thawing in damp, plowed ground. A rotation system giving legume crops to plow under will assist materially in controlling insects. Depending upon the area available, the county agent can suggest the type of rotation and system to meet the individual need.

Low In Organic Matter
Most garden soils in Missouri are low in organic matter. A heavy application of barnyard manure plowed under in the fall will make vegetable production more efficient. The role of organic matter in any soil is to supply food material for growing plants. It also aids in making this food available. It gives the soil a greater capacity for holding food material and moisture. The increased moisture content of the soil will lessen the effects of the dry periods on the growth and development of crops.

In the spring, a good seedbed can be prepared with about one-third the labor if the soil has been fall-plowed. A better stand will be obtained because the tiny roots are in contact with the soil immediately when growth starts. There are no large air spaces in the soil to cause drying that is harmful to good growth of small seedlings. The first and best preparation that can be made to provide such a seedbed is to plow the garden in the fall.

Good Breakfast For Day's Start

"Did you eat a good breakfast this morning? If you fixed breakfast for others, was it a good one?" Tossing these challenging questions straight to the reader, a new publication by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics gives a quick, 3-point test for sizing up a breakfast. It follows with nutrition facts to help breakfast eaters and breakfast fixers in achieving the good-breakfast goal.

The folder, "Eat a good breakfast to start a good day," may be had free from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

"One thing is certain," say the nutritionists, "going without breakfast is a bad start for the day. It's been found that workers who skip breakfast get less done in the first working hour than those who tuck away a good meal before work. As the morning goes on, the hungry ones grow less efficient. After lunch they do better; then they slow up again."

"What happens to these workers happens to homemakers, too, and to everyone else. It's especially true for children. A child who eats a good breakfast has a better chance to do well with studies and games."

If breakfast is a problem meal, don't give up. Try to solve it, the nutritionists advise.

If every minute counts in the morning, devices like these may help! Squeeze orange juice the night before, then store it cold and covered. That way, very little vitamin C is lost. If toast is made in an oven or broiler, bread may be buttered the night before. Cover the slices and put them in a refrigerator or other cold place overnight, and they will be ready for the oven.

Red Cross Corner

Last week, a call came from Red Cross headquarters, SAAF for 25 arm bands. These bands were a "must," the call definitely an emergency one. We contacted our chairman of production, Mrs. Harry Harnsberger, who, with her committee, Mrs. C. D. Osborne, Mrs. George Hoffman, Mrs. A. C. Lacer and Mrs. J. G. Hanson, took over this project, and delivered the completed arm bands within twenty-four hours.

The Home Nursing program, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Emmett Hurley, is rapidly shaping up. Three classes are under way: Mrs. A. C. Dorrance, is instructing at her home where she has equipped a room for the purpose. Mrs. Willard Davidson is instructing Tuesday and Friday afternoons at the Armory, and Mrs. Hugh Jones, Tuesday night, also at the Armory. Mrs. Dorrance's class began instruction Tuesday.

The current Red Cross First Aid class will be instructed from 7 to 9 in the evening, instead of in the afternoon, as previously announced. We should like to call to the attention of our readers the fact that during a fire at a Sedalia home this past week, a Red Cross First Aid instructor, who happened to be present, gave valuable assistance, and administered first aid in a case where such treatment was definitely indicated. We are still accepting registrations for this new First Aid class. Call the Red Cross office, 618, for further information.

At a recent meeting of the Altar Society of Sacred Heart church, the program was in charge of Miss Agnes Quin, chairman of Surgical Dressings. Miss Quin presented the following women, each of whom gave a short talk on her particular branch of Red Cross work: Mrs. Eula R. Spencer, executive secretary; Mrs. Harold Dean, chairman of Volunteer Special Services; Mrs. H. F. Rapp, Canteen; Mrs. Harry Lambirth, Nurse Aids; Mrs. Lela Lee, Gray Ladies; Mrs. Arthur Klang, handicraft; Mrs. Emmett Hurley, Home Nursing; Mrs. H. J. Cooney, Staff Assistance. Miss Quin spoke on the work of the Surgical Dressings department.
